Quad Description:

This catalog will always refer to frames in numbers of quads high by number of quads wide. For example a 2 x 3 quad frame will mean that the frame is 2 quads high by 3 quads wide.

Dimensional Weight:

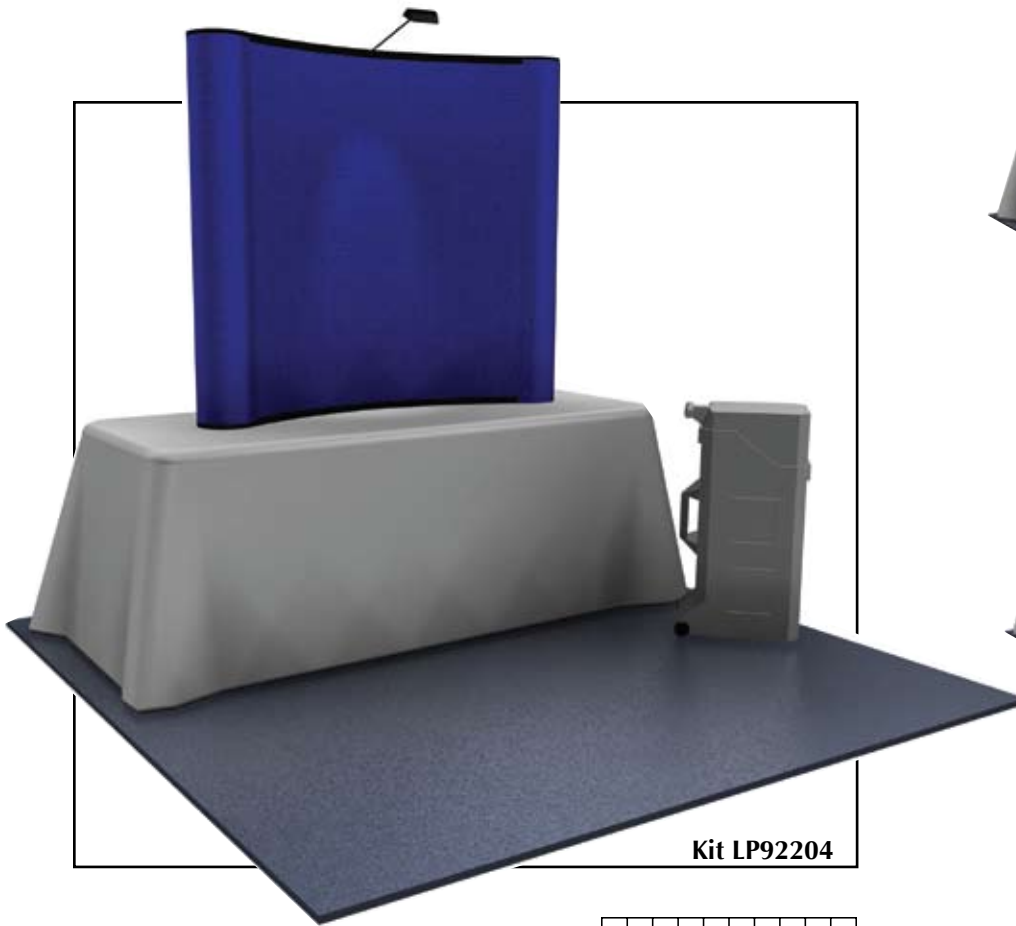

If the cubic size of a package exceeds a carriers' size allowance, the dimensional weight system is used. Dimensional weight calculates the volumetric weight of packages. Freight carriers then utilize the greater of the actual weight or dimensional weight to invoice shipping charges. Domestic air & ground shipments are calculated as (Length x Width x Height) divided by 194, with all dimensions in inches. For international freight, dimensional weight is calculated as (Length x Width x Height) divided by 166.

Returns:

All returns to TideLine Design, Inc., whether warranty work or not, must have a "Return Authorization Number" that has been issued by Dealer Support Services, and must be shipped freight "pre-paid" by dealer or end-user. Shipments received without an RA-number may be refused and sent back to shipper at shipper's expense.

Warranty:

TideLine Design's mission is to provide its dealers with the highest quality products and services. LP3500 frames & channel bars have a "no questions asked" guarantee & are warranted for the life of the product. All other components are warranted to be free from defects in workmanship and materials for 90 days from shipment of product. These warranties apply to original purchaser only & do not cover components that have been modified, altered, or repaired by anyone other than TideLine Design, Inc.
